GENERAL NEWS.

Excited over the Hawaiian Treaty.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Hawaiian sugar question is assuming such proportions in the markets of this country, that a determined and united effort is to be made [illegible] this session of congress for relief from congress. It will be demanded that so much of the treaty between the Sandwich Islands and the United States as permits the entry of Hawaiian sugar free of duty shall be abrogated. [illegible] Matthiessen & Wichers' Sugar Refining Company last week received a consignment of Hawaiian sugar transshipped by steamer from San Francisco, where it had been received free of duty, and [illegible] shipment of the same grade of sugars is now on the way here from San Francisco.

Blaine's Evidence.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The Tribune says Blaine's evidence in yesterday's investigation was clear, strong and conclusive. Probably no intelligent human being could expect a different outcome. Blaine's testimony indicates the attention given the alleged Peruvian company by congress and the country has been preposterous. No rational man could read the first half dozen out of a hundred columns of stuff reported without realizing that he was asked to invest with international importance the pretentious boast of a moonstruck and utterly irresponsible New York adventurer.

Indiana's Election.

TERRE HAUTE, April 26.—The Evening Gazette says by the alteration of the constitutional amendment changing the date of the state election from October to November 50 members of the state senate—the whole number—are to be elected this fall instead of 25 as heretofore. The term of office of 25 of them however will not begin to run until expiration of the terms of their predecessors, which occurs a few days before the November election in 1884. This is deemed important, as the U. S. senator who succeeds Voorhees is to be elected in the winter of 1884-85 and this unexpected catch in the law precipitates that contest in part this fall. Democrats claim that this is an advantage for them.

Another Brass Medal Provided For.

NEW YORK, April 26.—A Tribune's Washington special says: Still another iron-clad Cameron nomination went to the senate to-day—that of Andrew J. Kauffman to be collector of internal revenue for the 9th district of Pennsylvania. Kauffman is one of the 306 having misrepresented almost the unanimous sentiment of the Lancaster district by voting at Chicago for Grant.

A Sheriff Shot.

DENVER, April 26.—Times' Lake special: This morning, about two o'clock, Sheriff E. N. Campbell while guarding the contents of a vacant house against thieves, was shot through the heart and instantly killed by two low dance house men named George Betterand and James Brownings. Lynching is apprehended to-night.

Sullivan Retired for a Time.

BOSTON, April 26.—John L. Sullivan, the pugilist, was to-day sentenced to three months in the house of correction for assault on Chas. Robbins in a bar room on Elliot street, Sunday night. Sullivan appealed.

Railroad Election.

CHICAGO, April 26.—At the annual election of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad to-day about two-thirds the stock was voted and the result was the re-election of the entire old board.

Bank Official Arrested.

BUFFALO, April 26.—R. Poole, late president, and Herman J. Hall, a young speculator who borrowed $440,000 on $10,000 securities of the First National bank, now defunct, have been arrested.

A Correct View.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The Tribune reviews the antecedents of the president's latest appointments and shows they all belong to the stalwart wing of the party, and that they generally replace those who belong to the majority of the party.

Death of Emily Mestayer.

Emily Mestayer, a well known actress, died here yesterday. She is the mother of Dr. Chas. Houpt of San Francisco.

Stull's Terrible Crime.

GEORGETOWN, O., April 26.—William Stull, recently discharged from the employment of Collins Summers, a prominent farmer near here, shot Mrs. Summers six times with a revolver Sunday evening, killing her instantly. The deed was done because Stull thought his victim caused his dismissal. This is the man who was corralled near Franklin, Pa., this afternoon and shot himself to prevent lynching.

A Murderer's Fate.

CANTON, O., April 26.—Wm. Strull, the Georgetown murderer, was cornered early this morning in the wood near Franklin by the sheriff and posse, and finding escape impossible shot himself dead.

Dropped from Court.

COLUMBUS, O., April 25.—By a decision of the supreme court to-day the case of contempt against Wm. H. Vanderbilt in connection with the C. C. & I. C. railroad is dropped from court.

Trickett's Advice.

ST. LOUIS, April 25.—The president of the Modoc Rowing Association has a letter from Trickett advising him to take the odds of 3 to 1 against him (Trickett) in the race with Hanlan in the Thames. Trickett thinks the odds will be 3 or 4 to 1.

Injunction Refused.

ST. LOUIS, April 25.—Judge McCrary to-day refused to grant an injunction preventing other sleeping cars than the Pullman being used on the Iron Mountain railroad.

Missouri Railroad Earnings.

The gross earnings of railroads of this state for the year 1881, as reported to the railway commissioner, amount to $35,000,000.

Behind in his Accounts.

DALLAS, Tex., April 26.—It is reported that investigation by government officials show United States Marshal Prussel behind in his accounts, and that he has been arrested on orders from Washington.

Minister Hurlbut's Remains.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The body of Gen. Stephen A. Hurlbut, late minister to Peru, was taken from the undertaking rooms this evening at 7 o'clock, and put on board the train for Belvidere, Boone county, Ill., where interment takes place.

Gould's Journey.

LAREDO, [illegible] April [illegible].—Jay Gould and party left Laredo for Lampasas, Mexico, to-day.

Train Wrecked.

A bridge burned yesterday on the Texas & Mexican railroad between Laredo and Corpus Christi. A relief train was sent from Laredo to the wreck. The engineer and fireman were killed, while several others were seriously injured. The loss to the railroad is $3000.

THE TURF.

Spring Races at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—To-day was the first day of the spring meeting of the Pacific Blood horse association at Bay District park. The weather was fine and track in excellent condition from the light rain of yesterday, and a good attendance. In the first race for California stakes half mile dash, 2-year olds, there were 10 entries. It was won by Gano, Panama 2d, Lou Spencer 3d. Time :51.

Second race—Cuyuts' stake, 1¼-mile heats, free for all, six entries. Won by Atlanta, Precious 2d, Night Hawk 3d. Time 2:11.

Third race—Winter's stake, 1½ miles, 3 year olds, 18 entries. Won by Duchess of Norfolk, Forest King 2d. Time, 2:39¾.

The last race was the Coquette stakes for maiden fillies, 3-year olds, 1¼ mile, four entries. Won by Maria F., Hattie B. 2d. Time, 1:46.

The 2000 Guineas.

LONDON, April 26.—The race for the 2000 guineas was won by Shotover, Quicklime 2d, Margin 3d.

The Prince of Wales stakes were won by Maskelyne, Eusebe second, Privateer third.

CANADA.

Lorne's Intentions.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 26.—If the civil service bill now pending is passed the Marquis of Lorne says he will visit the Pacific provinces in company with the princess. He is expected here the latter part of May or early in June.

Suffering at Anacosti.

GASPE, April 26.—A boat from Esquimaux point arrived at English Bay, Anticosti, last night and reports that 26 persons at Esquimaux point died of scarlet fever during the winter. Great distress prevails all along the north shore. Women have traveled from twenty to thirty miles over rough roads begging provisions for their children. No vessels have arrived from the seal fishery or from Quebec. There is no ice on that coast but a great quantity of snow. Hunters have returned with a very small lot of furs. If the people of Anticosti are not supplied with provisions shortly a majority of them will be in a state of starvation.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Attendants on Darwin's Funeral.

LONDON, April 26.—Among those who attended Darwin's funeral were Lord Salisbury, Lord Aberdeen, Sir Charles Dilke, Sir Rutherford Alcock, Mr. Mundella, Bright, Hon. Edward Gibson, Thomas Burt, Professor Tyndall, John Morly, Herbert Spencer, Vice Chancellor Evans, Professor Jowett, the last two being members of the deputation representing the university of Oxford.

Bradlaugh's Suits.

Bradlaugh has brought suit against the assistant sergeant at arms of the commons for ejecting him from the lobby at the last session, and also began suit against Newdigate, M. P., for maintenance.

Proposition Carried.

VIENNA, April 26.—At a meeting of the Austria-Hungarian delegations, the proposal of the Hungarian delegation to reduce the sum demanded for expenses of the insurrection by 20,000,000 florins was carried—50 to 45.

More Jewish Outrages.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 26.—Many shops and houses belonging to Jews were burned last night at Kamenitz. Damage, 500,000 roubles.

Agitation to be Suppressed.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 26.—General Ignatieff has given the strictest orders for suppressing the intrigue German agitation in Esthonia.

Report on the Columbia River.

The report of Lieut. F. W. Symons relative to the improvement of the navigable waters of the upper Columbia river was presented in the senate and referred to the committee on commerce to-day.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—[illegible] the word [illegible] Chinese [illegible] skilled and unskilled laborers and Chinese employed in mining, was carried [illegible] yeas [illegible] nays [illegible]. [illegible] the vote was a party one except that of Miller of California, Jones of Nevada [illegible] who voted with the republicans [illegible] Illinois [illegible] who voted with the republicans. [illegible] the bill was reported to the senate with [illegible] separate votes on some of the amendments.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Debate on the Chinese bill was continued by Slater of Oregon, who sharply criticised Hoar's speech and contrasted the records of the republican and democratic parties on the Chinese question to the advantage of the latter. He also argued against the proposed omission of the 15th section from the bill.

Hawley of Connecticut followed in opposition to the bill, attacking especially its provision against Chinese naturalization and similar penalty features which he likened to the machinery of the fugitive slave law.

In the senate this afternoon, on motion of Miller of California, who reported it, the house bill to execute certain treaty stipulations relating to Chinese was taken up and the senate committee amendments up to the last sections (14 and 15) were agreed to as read. Upon the point of one of the amendments, Ingalls remarked that his understanding that under the bill all Chinese laborers who are in the country up to ninety days after its passage are to be permitted to remain. This was assented to by Miller as correct.

Call criticized some of the phraseology of the bill and particularly the phrase "Aiding and abetting" as applied to persons assisting in the landing of an excluded Chinese laborer. He thought the language obscure and provision objectionable.

Hawley said the criticism would apply to the whole bill. It was made the duty of the president for instance, under certain conditions to catch a yellow boy and deport him. What is the use of arguing, the question at all, he continued. If we have made up our minds in the middle of the nineteenth century to put this on our statute book let us do it in silence and in mourning. Upon reaching the committee amendment striking out the 14th section which prohibits any state or U. S. courts from admitting Chinese to citizenship, Farley insisted that the section should be retained. He said the committee had assumed that it was not necessary, but he knew, that notwithstanding the prohibition of the statute, in the subject courts had naturalized Chinamen. He wanted now a specific enactment on the point. The amendment of the committee to strike out was then rejected, and the section retained. Yeas 26, nays 34.

Edmunds moved to substitute for the 15th section the following: "That the words 'Chinese laborers' wherever used in this act shall be construed to include persons who are usually engaged in manual labor."

Farley took the floor in opposition to the amendment.

After showing that Chinese skilled labor is precisely the kind which is most injurious to our interests, Farley became engaged in a long colloquy with Dawes about the labor experiment of Chinese in Massachusetts and at 4 o'clock yielded to the motion made by Edmunds for executive session, which was agreed to. The bill accordingly goes over until to-morrow.

House.

Page presented a petition of vineyardists and wine merchants of California opposing the bill proposing a tax of $2.40 on every dozen of American champagne and sparkling wine. Referred.

Collins called up the contested election case of Lynch vs. Chalmers.

Randall raised the question of consideration and the house decided, by yeas 116, nays 90, to consider. The report was then read.

Reading of the report consumed an hour and a half, and at its conclusion Pettybone, of Tenn., ssee took the floor in support of the case of contestant Lynch.

Atherton of Ohio, made a long argument in favor of the minority report, declaring Chalmers elected to the seat.

Moore, of Tennessee, in advocating the seating of Lynch, protested against the "schilly schally milk sop" policy of managers of the republican party in the house. If it had any managers he insisted on a vigorous policy in regard to contested elections cases, warning his party friends that unless they did simple justice, and that soon, to republican contestants who had almost literally fought their way to the doors of this congress, the 48th congress would be in the hands of a round majority of [illegible].

The matter then went over till to-morrow. House adjourned.

THE ASSESSMENT QUESTION.

DAYTON, Or., April 21, 1882.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

The discussion of the subject of assessment and taxation through the press encourages a hope that some practical legislation may be possible. Still a wide range of opinion is shown as to the proper remedy for the evils which all admit exists in our practice. It is apparent that all the difficulty arises from deducting indebtedness which must be done, if credits are assessed, to avoid double taxation. A law which cannot be enforced generally should never be enacted and it is proved beyond a doubt that one-third of the credits within the state escape assessment.

This will always be the case so long as a one thousand dollar note is made to pay as much tax as three thousand dollars worth of property. Few men will hesitate to protect themselves from such manifest injustice. The last legislature undertook to remedy this defect and we see the result. Valuations are but little if any higher than formerly and the discrepancy between deductions for indebtedness and credits assessed, are greater than ever.

To remedy this great and growing evil I would suggest the following. Instead of having the state levy fixed by the legislature, let the governor, secretary and treasurer form a state board to estimate annually the amount necessary for state expenses. Require the assessor of each county to report to the state board annually in gross the number acres of plow land, number acres timber land, number acres pasture land, number horses over four years old, same under 3, cattle over 3 years, same under 3, number sheep, swine, &c., &c. Require him also to classify farm improvements, say No. 1, which comprises the best and most valuable, No. 2 the average and No. 3 the least valuable. For towns classify lots and improvements so as to enable the board, from their knowledge of location, to approximate their value. For manufactures, merchandise, etc., sworn statements of owners should be taken. In this manner the state board will be enabled to ascertain the relative value of property in the different counties and apportion accordingly the amount of tax each should contribute to support the state government. This amount the commissioners of each county can add in gross to their estimate for county expenses.

For county purposes the present practice will serve inasmuch as high or low valuation will make no difference so it is equal.

Let it be further provided that after the taking effect of this act all property shall be assessed to the person in possession and no deduction shall be made for indebtedness or credits assessed except mortgages executed prior to the taking effect of this law and all mortgages so deducted shall be assessed and pay tax in the county where the mortgaged property is located, and if the holder of said mortgage fails to pay the tax in the time prescribed the party in possession shall pay the tax and the amount so paid shall be a legal deduction from said mortgage. This plan will reduce the levy on the same valuation now made by at least one third and I feel confident all honest men including the debtor class will be benefited by it.

Northern Pacific Notes.

Chicago Tribune, April 19.

Mr. G. K. Barnes, general passenger and ticket agent of the Northern Pacific railway, was in the city yesterday. A Tribune representative caught him on the fly at the Northwestern office yesterday afternoon, and learned from him the following particulars regarding the new construction and other doings of that company.

A new stage line has just been established by the Northern Pacific from Glendive to the Maginnis mines which are situated about 200 miles northwest from Glendive. Since the treaty with the Crow Indians has been effected people have been rushing to that section of the country by the hundred.

A new road is projected from Benson's landing, 20 miles this side of Bozeman, to Fort Benton, and a corps of engineers is now in the field surveying a route. A line having already been surveyed from Benson's landing to the Yellowstone national park, the Northern Pacific will thus secure a through line from Fort Benton to the Yellowstone park.

A branch is also projected to leave the main line at a point 50 miles from Helena to Butte City.

Gilmer, Saulsbury & Co. have secured the mail contract from Miles City to Bozeman, and about April 20 they will put on the route a daily line of four horse Concord coaches to Bozeman and make connection at Bozeman for all important points in Montana.

The Missouri River Transportation Co. will commence to run their boats April 15 from Bismarck to upper Missouri river points.

The Northern Pacific is pushing the work of construction on its extension to the Pacific with all possible speed, and expects to reach Bozeman by Aug. 1, 1882. Four hundred men are already at work on the extension. The company is anxious to reach the Pacific coast as quickly as possible to head off competition and expects to make connection with the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co. as [illegible].

Mr. Barnes [illegible] states that [illegible] the Northern Pacific country is unprecedentedly large and exceeds all expectations. Although the company provided itself before the beginning of this season with an unusually large amount of rolling stock for the transportation of immigrants, more than it expected to have any use for yet it finds itself short of stock now and has been compelled to press for immediate use a number of coaches from New England roads.

A Humorous Incident of the Flood.

Memphis Appeal.

A [illegible] boat coming up the Mississippi the other day [illegible] and [illegible] jumped up against a raft [illegible] hadn't more than touched it before an old darkey rammed his head up through a hole in the roof where the chimney came out and yelled at the captain on the roof: [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible]

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Continuation of the Blaine Investigation by the Shipherd Committee.

BELMONT RECEIVES A POINTED THRUST FROM THE WITNESS.

The Chinese Bill Fails to Reach a Final Vote But will Probably be Finished To-day.

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, April 26.—[illegible] the [illegible] president of [illegible] habit for years of keeping [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] members [illegible] those South American dispatches [illegible] ing the president's sickness. Blaine [illegible] the fact that certain dispatches were [illegible] the president was sick but which remained in statu quo until after the succession of President Arthur. In explanation of President Garfield's views upon the subject Blaine said: "President Garfield in conversation with me said Mr. Lincoln directed Secretary Seward to bring all foreign business to him and not to the cabinet unless he desired. From that time forward I never submitted anything to the cabinet which involved a permanent policy or change of policy and no step which would involve a policy on the part of this government was ever taken by me without first showing the president and receiving his entire approval and direction." Blaine alluded to the efforts which had been made to fix upon him (Blaine) responsibility for a certain policy towards South American states which was calculated to involve this country seriously, etc. "The case was most fairly arbitrated and property has gone the way of the old world, England has gobbled the guano and a million tons of it are now advertised in London worth probably $60,000,000." Blaine continued with much earnestness: "The English bondholders put up the job of war on Peru and it was for loot and booty. They make a mistake who speak of this war as a Chilian war. It was an English war on Peru and I take the responsibility to so put it. My foreign policy, to quote a common expression, would have driven this country to war with Chili, had it not been thwarted. Why it is believed all over Chili that the United States got out in time to save a thrashing that her hare brained secretary of state was just about to involve her in when she was saved by his removal and we are laughed at and cartooned in their papers. A little gathering of 100,000 people on the west coast of South America would have given us a terrible thrashing, so we let the dismemberment of Peru go on and allowed England to bag the spoil and adding with much emphasis, history will hold the United States responsible for it. I don't desire to assume that President Arthur is responsible for any such effort. I acquit him entirely, but I desire all this time to place this matter before the committee to rectify."

Blaine then produced the original draft of instructions which were given to Trescott which he read and pointed out corrections which had been made by the president some of them at his (Blaine's) suggestion, and commented upon the corrections and their merits and demerits. He added: "I do not by any means find fault with the president for changing his mind, but this original draft of instructions to which President Arthur gave his assent and which following the precedent I kept, I desire to state most solemnly that the assumption that I ever interpolated a line or syllable in a dispatch after it was agreed to by the president is as false as the lie that was circulated over the country that I was during the president's sickness blocking out a foreign policy of my own."

At this point Belmont proceeded to propound a series of prepared questions mainly directed to enquiring the policy of his department in the Chili-Peruvian trouble and instructions given Trescott.

Witness, in reply to a question, stated that he had never made examination of the merits of the Cochet or Landreau claims. He had never considered the Landreau claim as readjudicated.

Belmont then propounded a series of questions in regard to the terms good offices or officially, and a somewhat lively tilt occurred between the examiner and witness, which was suddenly brought to a climax by Blaine's remarking with some emphasis: "I hope, Mr. Belmont, you will be a gentleman. I shall be [illegible] and shall treat you as such. I am not [illegible] to be badgered. I must answer questions in my own way and you must not undertake to [illegible]."

[illegible] any lack of courtesy or desire [illegible]. He entertained the highest respect for witness.

[illegible] examination for some time pursued the direction [illegible] instruction upon the [illegible] while the latter [illegible] in asking as written. Blaine [illegible] said:

"I must [illegible] this seems to me a very extraordinary examination."

Witness then explained at some length just what instructions were given to Hurlbut in relation to Landreau. [illegible] the courts of Peru. "It was von [illegible] [illegible]," added Blaine, "to ask a foreign government to give an American a hearing in its courts."

Examination proceeded [illegible] and passed into a condition [illegible] of repartee and counter retort which frequently convulsed spectators with laughter and left it in doubt which was the examiner and which the witness. Blaine asserted that neither the Landreau nor Cochet claim had anything to do with the policy of this government toward South American republics than did a barnacle on the bottom of the ship which bore Hurlbut to Lima. Belmont then continued his examination when the committee adjourned till to-morrow.

Blaine's Examination.

NEW YORK, April 26.—A Washington correspondent of the Mail and Express says: It was Blaine's day, a milepost in his eventful history at which he stopped long enough to create a most remarkable scene. The man of nerve who for years carried everything before him in the house stood face to face with a stripling who has just appeared in the political arena. Blaine in explanation of his attitude was very emphatic, reckless and disposed to be quarrelsome as he went along and wrestled with the long questions plied by Belmont he became petulant and angrily insisted that he should not be badgered as a witness in a police court. Belmont stood the frequent sallies of curt and pointed replies, implying contempt for questions with considerable nerve and patience, but finally, though disclaiming any disposition to be captious and recognizing the age and dignity of the witness, lost his temper and called Blaine to order. It was evidently Blaine's intention to give his testimony great length for he had some three columns of printed matter pasted upon paper. There was a hushed but excited sensation when Blaine said the government which was not courageous enough to go out over night was yielding the rights of American citizens in foreign countries. This was followed by a statement which involves state secrets to the effect that the Chili-Peruvian war was a put up job on the part of English bondholders backed by the English government. When the war was over Blaine declared that seven English iron clads which had been raised in Peruvian waters would [illegible] there was no further use for their services. It was also a significant fact that the Peruvian government tried to buy ships here but could not on account of the inability of [illegible] [illegible] them. They were afraid [illegible] England because it was impossible to make a [illegible] there on account of British relations with Chili.

There was an almost laughter and sometimes applause and always deep interest manifested.

Chili's Desires.

CINCINNATI, April 26.—A Commercial's Washington special: A distinguished one of the South American legations said to-day that the Chilians still hold Peru but are willing to their advices they would be glad of a chance to withdraw and make themselves whole for losses incurred. They have feared to withdraw before now, because Peru was in such an unsettled condition that anarchy was sure to follow and this would afford an excuse for foreign intervention in the protection of alien property. Chili wished to avoid this and that government did not wish any foreign influence planted adjacent to her borders. There was no doubt Chili would keep Tarapaca and the prospect of the $1,000,000 indemnity being yielded by this province was not very bright. The fact seemed to be that the nitrate beds were not one hundredth part as valuable as Chili believed before the war and as for guano it was poor and nearly exhausted. They did not expect to find the million tons. Their offer to sell that amount simply meant to sell all that had not been sold yet. Their advices were to the effect that the nitrate beds were not being worked with profit and in fact were practically exhausted. Stories of the immense value of the deposits as set forth in the claims upon which the Peruvian Company was based this gentleman characterizes as simply fabulous. The facts were that according to the valuation made by the Peruvian government itself before the war there was only $ 000,000 worth, and probabilities were this estimate was fully as large as it could be made. It was not to be expected Peru would undervalue her own resources. He thought Chili was sick of the whole business and had gone to war about a thing which was not so much after she had obtained it as she expected. He said they understood the real object of the war was possession of Tarapaca as the prize and that Chili's expectation had not been realized.

No Action on the Chinese Bill.

The general expectation that the senate would reach a final vote on the Chinese bill this afternoon failed of fulfillment partly because Senators Slater and Hawley made longer speeches than were looked for but mainly on account of the illness of a daughter of Senator Edmunds which required him to leave the capitol about 4 o'clock and induced the friends of the bill to allow it to go over until to-morrow in order to afford him an opportunity to participate in the closing discussion. It was understood also that he desires to ply specifically to some of Hawley's criticisms upon the machinery of the [illegible] as a member of the foreign relations [illegible] he largely assisted in framing and which he is [illegible] prepared to defend. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] answer to [illegible] [illegible] Farley [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] which the people of [illegible] [illegible] with practical unanimity regard as indispensable for the public welfare.

According to the present outlook [illegible] the vote for the [illegible] will be dropped and the [illegible] language of the bill [illegible] [illegible] Chinese laborers will be [illegible] [illegible] small majority. It is [illegible] expected that the bill will pass before adjournment to-morrow.

Debate on the Chinese Bill.

In the senate to-day the Chinese bill came up as [illegible] business. Slater [illegible] [illegible] senator when he charged that the bill was [illegible]. Its friends contended for it upon [illegible] just the reverse of his and [illegible] protect our laborers from being ground down [illegible] Chinaman's wages. The [illegible] professed by that [illegible] in the tariff [illegible] in regard [illegible] the American rate of wages was [illegible] apprehension when measured by his present position, because the whole object of the pending legislation and sole end sought by the Pacific coast agitation was that for which he [illegible]. Slater [illegible] would remind Massachusetts senators that the people of the Pacific coast were of a Caucasian race and descendants of the men of Massachusetts who threw overboard the tea in Boston harbor. They had reclaimed that beautiful land from the wilderness and they would not surrender it. Their love of liberty and resistance to oppression was the same that had made the reputation of Massachusetts what it is and hoped they might not be driven to any extreme measures, but that their appeal to congress to stay the tide of Mongolian immigration, which had often been made in vain, might now be heeded. He then reviewed and replied to the objections of the president's veto.

Hawley in opposition to the bill said that as coolie immigration had been prohibited by our statute twenty years ago, it was not contemplated by the bill and was also prohibited by China. Argument at that point had no force. He read in this connection an interesting statement of a resident of Connecticut who he said, though born in China was a naturalized American citizen. He contended that an exclusion based upon race or color was unphilosophical, unjust and undemocratic. It was contrary to the 15th amendment. He conceded the right of the government to legislate against hostile or dangerous immigration. But he would not impose restrictions which an immigrant could not overcome by his own efforts, such as race or color, but those which relate to his moral and intellectual character and his purpose in coming. The objection to the Chinese that they are too shrewd for their own interests was on assurance he thought that they were not going to labor for less than they could secure. After commenting upon the extremity to which race hatreds and religious prejudices had been carried on in the past in certain quarters he was disposed to regard the bill, though a vast improvement upon the vetoed measure as violating the treaty in the ten year suspension. The longest period anticipated by the commissioners as shown by their negotiations was five years. He specially objected to the naturalization section and denounced the provision to punish with fine and imprisonment any person aiding or abetting the landing of Chinamen as a revival of an odious feature of the fugitive slave law. He said it was proposed to exclude Chinese laborers for no other reason than that he is a laborer. The assurance that their coming was dangerous to good order he asserted to be untrue.

Edmunds called attention to the raids upon Chinatown and like disturbances in San Francisco.

Hawley replied that the bill assumed that the people who were coming were to make disturbances.

Edmunds explained that the reference was not to their acts but to the fact of their coming, which fact alone was well known to be productive of disturbance.

Hawley contended that a fair construction of the recital of the preamble to the bill was that if Chinese came somebody here would without any fault of theirs trespass upon their rights. He believed the first duty of the government to be to compel its own citizens to obey the laws. He would first silence rioters. In conclusion he reiterated his unconditional hostility to the measure.

Edmunds moved amendment defining the words Chinese laborers to mean persons who are usually engaged in manual labor.

Farley read from a memorandum of the Chinese minister which accompanied the veto message to show that official's objection that the use of the words "unskilled laborers" would include mechanics and laundrymen. Farley contended that all skilled labors had properly been embraced in excluded class under the treaty and were laborers whose presence was more prejudicial to the interests of the whites on the Pacific coast.

Senate at 4 o'clock went into executive session and at [illegible] adjourned until to-morrow when Farley will continue discussion.

Action on Worthington's Nomination.

The senate committee on [illegible] will [illegible] the nomination of Worthington [illegible] collector [illegible] [illegible] Boston and they expect to act upon it [illegible]. Senators Hoar and Dawes will appear before the committee [illegible] make argument against Worthington's nomination. The burden of their argument will be that Worthington would [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] part of [illegible] political machine. Representatives Bowman, Harris and Norcross of Massachusetts and ex-Senator Boutwell will make arguments in favor of Worthington. Hoar and Dawes mean to carry their fight into the senate but unless they gain a very considerable [illegible] it is said they will be defeated and Worthington confirmed. Present indications are that most of the [illegible] vote will be for confirmation.

Guiteau becoming Frightened.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Guiteau is [illegible] some again [illegible] badly scared when [illegible] is made of court proceedings. He said to a reporter: "I suppose you know my case will be argued the 8th of next month. What do you think of my prospects? I don't want a commutation of sentence. If they do anything at all they must set me free in order that I can travel and lecture. I do not want to be cooped up in prison all my days."

The Mississippi River Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Garland this afternoon withdrew his $15,000,000 amendment to the Mississippi river bill saying the senate was apparently unanimous for the bill of the committee appropriating $7,000,000 for the Mississippi and $1,000,000 for the Missouri. Jones withdrew his amendment and the Mississippi river bill practically passed unanimously.

Washington Notes.

The cabinet to-day took steps looking to the relief of American suspects in Irish prisons.

The president will soon send a message to congress asking authority for lending government aid to territorial authorities in suppressing lawlessness of organized bands in Arizona.

Congressional Notes.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The house bill has passed authorizing the Sioux City & Pacific Railroad Co. to construct a railroad bridge over the Missouri river.

In the election cases in the house to-day every [illegible] as a greenbacker or independent voted with the majority of republicans and it may be conceded the election committee will be generally sustained by a majority of 10 or 12.

The Mahone Element Prospering.

The Mahone element in Virginia has been further recognized by the president by the nomination of the U. S. attorney for the eastern district of Virginia. He is the son of old Governor Wise and ran for congress two years ago. He voted for Garland against Tree [illegible] in 1872 and is now a democrat readjuster. Rutledge P. Hughes continues for U. S. marshal for the same district is clerk of the court of Mecklenburg county and a republican readjuster.

An Attachment Obtained.

An attachment in the name of Leopold [illegible] the Belgians for $500,000 has been obtained by the Belgian consul in this city from Judge Barrett of the supreme court against Leon Burnard, who was accused of robbing a prominent archbishop in Belgium of bonds, money, jewelry, &c. amounting as far as known to over $1,200,000. Burnard is supposed to be in this country and detectives are on his track.

Confirmations.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Alphonso Taft of Ohio envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Austria; James A. McKnight, of Utah, consul at St. Helena; C. B. Armstrong, of Illinois, register of the land office at Huron, Dakota.

Republicans Beaten.

The republicans were beaten in an attempt to take up the Chalmers-Lynch case to-day through an agreement between the democrats and the ways and means committee who wanted to continue the tariff commission bill.

The Star Route Cases.

The Kerr[?] ell star route case came up to-day. Ex-Postmaster General James and McVeagh were present as witnesses.

THE TARIFF QUESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

The Springfield Republican, an advocate of tariff reduction speaks as follows of the recent debate in congress over the tariff revision bill:

"One of the remarkable features of the debate in both branches is that not a single republican takes advanced revenue reform ground. There are no free trade republicans as it is left in doubt whether there are any sincere republican revenue reformers. Certainly the weight of the republican argument has been in glorification of the tariff attributing to it the growth, wealth, prosperity and power of the country and half doubting whether we can have too much of such a glorious policy."

I am sorry to see the Republican take so deep a [illegible] view for I am in favor of a tariff for revenue, or free trade, as such tariff is commonly called. And knowing that the democratic party is a party which is sound upon this question even if it were [illegible] I had hoped that the revenue reform section [illegible] would be reinforced by sufficient republican allies to constitute a majority. FREE TRADE.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

DENVER, April 26.—The Tribune's Santa Fe special gives the following account of Col. Forsyth's battle with Loco's band on Sunday. Forsyth was proceeding from a dry camp on the road from Lordsburg to [illegible] across the Gila and McDonald with his last scouts started out to prospect. Col. Forsyth's [illegible] Forsyth reached the Gila an Indian announced that four scouts were killed by a large band [illegible] alone and that McDonald and the others were defending themselves against them. Forsyth galloped 16 miles and the Indians strongly intrenched in Stein's peak range and attacked them at once and drove them from their intrenched positions. They fell back and occupied two impregnable positions six to eighteen feet high. It was impossible to dislodge them without great loss and the troops gave up further operations. At 6 [illegible] this afternoon Forsyth again started for [illegible]. Four Indian scouts and one private of troop C were killed and one sergeant and four privates wounded. It is certain two of the enemy were killed and a number wounded. Forsyth has been joined by Capt. Chaffee with two companies of cavalry and expects to strike the Indians again in the Hatchet mountains to-morrow. He will keep right on and follow into Mexico. The whole population of the settlement of Gayleyville, in the Chiricahua mountains, numbering 35 were killed, and 20 people killed at Clifton and on the road from Clifton to the Gila river. Reports are current that Nana and some renegade Apaches from the Mescalero reservation at San Carlos have joined in inciting the outbreak. The Indians are well armed and well supplied with ammunition. Gen. Fuero is now marching north from Janos with 200 Mexican troops to attack the Indians now going south into the Chiricahua mountains.

The Republican's Santa Fe special says: A telegram just received at military headquarters from Lordsburg where it was sent by a messenger from Col. Forsyth, says they fought the Indians at Doubtful canyon and four scouts and one soldier were killed and four soldiers wounded, one of whom died this morning. They leave for Stein's pass this morning on the trail of a large party of 400 of whom 175 are bucks. Thirty five whites were killed at Gayleyville. Doubtful canyon is crossed by the border line of this territory, 30 miles from Lordsburg. All sorts of startling messages are coming, here and a great deal of excitement is felt among residents of the territory.

Official Report.

[illegible] Gen. Sheridan has forwarded Adjutant General Drum Col. Forsyth's account of his encounter with Indians in New Mexico at Dry creek camp on the road between Lordsburg and Richmond April 24th. Gen. McKenzie, of Fort Craig, started for Richmond this morning at daylight, ordered Lieut. McDonald, with six Indian scouts, to scout the country and proceeded across the Gila. When about two thirds across one of the Indians announced to me that four of the scouts were killed by a large number of Chiricahuas and that Lieut. McDonald and the other two were defending themselves against them. I galloped for sixteen miles to them and found the Indians strongly entrenched in Stein's Peak range, attacked them at once and drove them from their entrenched position. They fell back and occupied two impregnable positions which were from six to eighteen feet high and found it impossible to dislodge them without great loss. I gave up further operations at 6 o'clock and started again for Richmond. My loss was four Indian scouts and one private of Troop C killed and one sergeant and four privates wounded. I knew of a certainty that two of the enemy were killed and a number wounded. We captured and killed thirteen head of their stock. Have just met Mr. Fenton on the main road between Lordsburg and Richmond who will take this despatch to Lordsburg. Am compelled to go to the Gila river at Richmond for water for the animals. Will take up the trail and try to get these Indians in the open country of which I hope to give you more favorable reports. The number of Indians I fought to-day was between 80 and 100. It was impossible to do more under the circumstances. The canyon was the worst I ever saw. FORSYTH.

A Sufficient Force.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Two companies of cavalry at Fort [illegible] have received orders to be in readiness to start for Arizona but marching orders are not yet received. Advices are meager at military headquarters but the impression is that the force at the front is sufficient at any emergency. Capt. Harris [illegible] the [illegible] cavalry has left the [illegible] for Arizona.

TOMBSTONE, April 25.—No news of importance from Doubtful canyon since yesterday's dispatches. Forsyth is reported to be in camp on the east side of Stein's Peak range taking things very easy and affording the Indians every facility for escape. It looks very much like another military farce over the Indian question. The troops had the Indians completely surrounded at Doubtful canyon and they can't [illegible] Saturday night last but it is now feared they will escape.

A report is current of two prospectors having been killed yesterday 14 miles north of here on the Gila road.

McKenzie is said to be en route to join Forsyth and take command in person.

Heavy Destruction of Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Lordsburg dispatch: The burning of the town of Galeyville, reported in yesterday's dispatches has been confirmed. The number of killed is reduced, however, from 35 to 30. Parties just in from Burro mountains report all quiet in that section. Great fears are entertained for the safety of miners and prospectors occupying numerous small mining camps in Chiricahua range where Indians are known to have taken refuge after their escape from Stein's peak range.

Indian War Notes.

SHAKESPEARE, N. M., April 25.—A telegram is just received from the operator at Stein's pass, who reports that the town of Galeyville in Arizona, just over the New Mexico line, was burned and completely destroyed this evening by Indians and 36 white people killed. The Indians are scattering into small bands and making for the Chiricahua mountains. Forsythe with his entire command is in pursuit.

TUCSON, April 26.—A special from Tombstone to the Citizen says: Indians attacked the American mining camp at Sahuaripa, Sonora, April 20th killing Messrs. Lowry, Ray and Rickey. Three others made their escape. The Indians carried off all the camp property of value. Many Americans are in the neighboring hills and more murders are expected. The president of Barnachi, Senor Salazar, has ordered all [illegible] and volunteers to pursue the Indians and take no prisoners.

Further Depredations.

FORT BOWIE, A. T., April 25.—A courier reports that a small mining camp, about 6 miles south known as Ayres is surrounded by 150 hostiles and three men have been killed and 1 wounded. A horse [illegible] has been sent to notify Captain Mullen. Capt. Tupper has [illegible] companies of the 6th cavalry somewhere in that vicinity.

A Cheerful Dispatch.

TUCSON, April 25.—At a mass meeting of several thousand citizens held last night, it was unanimously directed that the following be sent and it was immediately wired as an open letter to the president and his cabinet and both houses of congress: During the reign of the Indian [illegible] there is [illegible] grand military display announced to take place at Fortress Monroe. We beg to offer you by a [illegible] the fact that nearly one hundred of our pioneers have within a few days been wantonly murdered in cold blood by the devilish Apaches with a cruel and mistaken policy permits to sever [illegible] their crimes. If some small portion of the expense incurred in your grand display could be devoted to such measures as would preclude the possibility of an increase in the list of our murdered [illegible] we could send you greetings of gratitude and cheer in place of this message of our sorrow and [illegible] and our desolation.

JAS. H. TOOLE, Chairman.
L. C. HUGHES, Secretary.

Uncomfortably Close.

A Willcox, Arizona dispatch reports Indians within four miles of town. Three men are reported killed near San Carlos.

Meeting at Tombstone.

TOMBSTONE, April 26.—A meeting was held by citizens of Bowie and a minute company organized for self protection against Indians. The reported capture of Galeyville and the killing of 30 men is incorrect. Only one man was killed three miles from town. Two companies of troops are at Galeyville and the Indians did not attack the place.

Indian News.

LITTLE ROCK, April 26.—Gazette's El Paso special: [illegible] Fuero, Mexican commander, [illegible] the river. [illegible] telegraph Gen. McKenzie at Santa Fe: "I am just [illegible] Gen. Hayes that the dividing [illegible] a battle ensued on the 13th [illegible] number of Indians from Arizona territory [illegible] several Indians were killed and a number [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] are in pursuit of the Indians. I communicate [illegible] New Mexico."

Bodie Mining News.

BODIE, April 25.—During the week the Standard has crushed 1800 tons of rock and received 3255 ounces of crude bullion and shipped $35,420. They are still cutting a station at the 1200-foot level. No notable change in the 1000-foot or 700-foot levels. Bodie has crushed 118 tons of average pulp which assays $90 and shipped $8460. Winze No. 12 is down 41 feet on a rich vein pitching somewhat west. The drift on the same is 39 feet north and seventy-four feet south. The west crosscut on the 180-foot level is in 29 feet. The Lent shaft is down 857 feet. Noonday and North Noonday joint incline is down 210 feet below the 512-foot level and opposite the recent rich discovery in the winze. Two weeks more sinking will doubtless bring the incline to the water level, when crosscuts will be run. The Red Cloud east crosscut on the 700-foot level is in 61 feet. Work is resumed in the bottom, 705 feet deep. Bodie Tunnel pulp assays averaged from $15 to $24. Oro is still crosscutting east on the 714 level. The Union drift on the Banker vein is in 287 feet with improvement in the quantity of ore. Tioga continues prospecting the 984-foot level. 140 stamps are running steadily in the district.

Infanticide Suspected.

SAN JOSE, April 26.—Quite a flutter has been caused here by the finding of the dead body of a male infant at the residence of Mrs. Jenny Jones on Ninth street, in this city. It has been learned that the baby belongs to a young girl named Emma Allison, who was on a visit to Mrs. Jones last week. The latter found the babe after Emma went home and reported the case to the police. Miss Allison is now in the county jail awaiting the result of the inquest on the child to see if she murdered it.

AN INTERESTING PARALLEL

That circumstances alter cases is nowhere truer than in the application of the rather abstruse principle known as senatorial courtesy. It is now possible to draw an interesting parallel between the views of a [illegible] upon the respective rights of a president and a senator when he stands on one side of the fence and after he has been transferred to the other. The custom house appointments in New York last year and in Boston this year illustrate the point. It may not yet be forgotten that a little less than a year ago there was a wonderful stir in New York about the appointment of Mr. Robertson. President Garfield was opposed and vilified in every possible manner for his nomination and confirmation was resisted on the following grounds: Mr. Merritt, who was thereby removed had given no cause for such action and therefore the appointment was contrary to civil service reform. The senators from New York were not consulted in naming his successor, and their dignity was thereby outraged. Finally it was asserted as an abstract truth that when both senators from any state united in opposing an appointee he should be rejected by the senate. How much was staked upon this issue the resignations following its failure showed. And there was every reason to believe that the sympathies of Mr. Arthur were actively enlisted on the side of the protesting senators. Yet he has done a far more astounding thing in Boston than President Garfield did in New York. Mr Beard the collector who is to be deposed has long been connected with business affairs in Boston and is as acceptable to the people of that city and as useful in the performance of his official duties as was Gen Merritt. He endeavored to apply the principles of civil service reform in the custom house and has the support of the press and of the entire [illegible] republican party. He is removed without cause and Mr. Worthington appointed in his place. The record of Worthington is brief but strong. He is the editor of the Traveller, a supporter of Ben Butler until that statesman imbibed democracy, and since that time he has amused himself with ridiculing civil service reform, propagating the creed, sometimes known as "stalwartism," and reviling the Garfield administration after the fashion of Mr. Gorham in the National Republican. Indeed, he has a striking resemblance to that [illegible] despised politician. This is the man whose appointment as collector at Boston was made to the surprise and consternation of both Massachusetts senators, and in opposition not only to the wishes of the republican party of [illegible] but to the intense disgust of the whole delegation in congress, with the exception of two representatives only. Messrs. [illegible] now a great historic precedent to follow. They can attack Mr. Arthur on the identical grounds occupied by the New York senators, and if they are [illegible] they can resign. They have now just as [illegible] before the state and nation as had the senators from New York, and they should [illegible] as they most probably would be, for [illegible] folly. They would then be in the direct line of promotion to places of high dignity and honor.

VARIED AGRICULTURE

An important movement to create a more diversified agricultural industry has recently been noted in Minnesota. This has been one of the great wheat-producing states, the principal crop of [illegible], the sole crop of many [illegible]. Local papers there say that producers [illegible] upon a single crop [illegible]. It is reported that the statistics of agricultural industry are likely to show a [illegible]. [illegible] and continuous rains have left the [illegible] lands of the state in a condition [illegible], which will greatly [illegible]. Agricultural [illegible] at a stand-still everywhere [illegible] River valley. There is, further, a [illegible] perceptible decrease in the wheat [illegible] the southern counties of the state [illegible] increase in the extent of land devoted to the cultivation of other grains or set aside for stock raising. Indeed it has been predicted that the time is near at hand when the "wheat empire" of the west will pass from Minnesota to Dakota. Furthermore, this change is regarded with favor for it is thought that more profit will result from a diversity of agricultural operations. The dairy and stock [illegible] is spoken of as a promising new branch of operations, and it is reported that the present year, when closed, will show an increased cultivation of corn and flax in the lower tiers of counties, of oats and barley [illegible] and an increase of the amount of land devoted to pasturage and stock-farming everywhere throughout the state. [illegible] up in the southern part of the state [illegible] reported being the center of a constantly widening group of dairy farms [illegible] will be a source of profit to those farmers who heretofore met with loss and misfortune when their [illegible] the cultivation of wheat exclusively. The fact is cited, however in this connection, that though Minnesota is to lose its former prestige as a wheat growing district, this loss will be more than compensated for by an increase of wheat acreage in Dakota and Montana. Wheat has been the principal crop of the Willamette valley in Oregon for the past twenty years or more, many fields having been continuously cropped during all that time. Our abundant rains and the native richness of the soil have supported this [illegible] thus far, but already signs of exhaustion appear and it is evident that there must soon be a change in the demands upon the soil. Even now it has been found by a few enterprising men that there is more profit in fruit and dairy farming than in wheat growing. The Willamette valley will eventually become the garden of the northwest and the broad lands of Eastern Oregon and Washington will be called upon for wheat.

DISGUSTED MR. MACVEAGH

Hon. Wayne MacVeagh late attorney general, is a very much disgusted man. He presided at the annual meeting of the Philadelphia Civil Service Reform Association on the 13th inst. and in discussing a resolution condemning the letter of First Assistant Postmaster General Hatton, exempting postal employees from the provisions of the civil service order said that President Hayes had consulted him (MacVeagh) in the preparation of this famous order and that he was the author of part of it. When, however Hayes was put to the test practically he failed. There had been questionable political services rendered by office-holders in the south. Hayes allowed himself to be over-persuaded and the authors of these questionable services in Louisiana and Florida were rewarded with public office. After that all hope of Hayes civil service work was gone, and the closing days of his administration witnessed Sherman trying to [illegible] himself president by the aid of the treasury department. [illegible] came the short lived Garfield administration. Whatever hope was in that was cut [illegible] by Guiteau's bullet. What Arthur was in the New York custom house he is to be in the president's chair. "Personally," said MacVeagh, "Mr Arthur is a kindly well disposed gentleman [illegible] him was of the pleasant character as it was with Hayes. But men [illegible] change the political training after arriving at the age either gentleman had attained. My [illegible] leaves me in this predicament. It [illegible] but three principles and I find myself opposed to all three. Its first great principle is the spoils system, the second is opposition to civil service reform and the third seems to consist of repudiation in old Virginia. Then the boss system is degradation. It goes from gutter to the White House. It subsists on the spoils of office. The duty of this association and [illegible] country is to supplant these bosses. Until that is done your work will not be [illegible]. You cannot pretend to be interested in the degrading spectacle of Mahoneism in Virginia, the deliberate prostitution of government power to aid repudiation of a state's obligations. If we could charge that upon [illegible] democrats it would be some relief, but to our sorrow and humiliation, those things are done in the name of the party of Abraham Lincoln. Instead of going forward the Arthur administration makes a retrograde movement."

If the government had to do exclusively with such persons as Mormon Hooper, who used to be a delegate to congress from Utah, a deal of trouble would be saved in the collection of its accounts. Hooper was in Washington the other day and received a telegram from Salt Lake City announcing that a suit had been brought against him by the government for taking 300,000 feet of timber from government land. He knew Kirkwood and went to him at once. "You know me and know that I never try to evade my responsibilities. I admit I took that timber. I had to have it and I am ready to pay for it. You have only made one mistake. I took at least 300 000 feet of lumber." Secretary Kirkwood asked Mr Hooper to make his statement in writing, to which the latter readily assented. The facts were as follows: A railroad in which Mr Hooper was largely interested was building and the land upon which the timber stood was unsurveyed and therefore could not be bought. Neither could the timber upon it be purchased. Therefore it was taken and a strict account of it was kept upon the books of the company. A letter was written by Secretary Kirkwood to the attorney general, recommending that the suit against Mr. Hooper be discontinued. How many wives Hooper has is not stated. He may be a villain and a crank on the wife question but he is sound on timber.

The Boston journals are warm in their praises of the Adams family for proceeding at the sacrifice of much family and filial pride to prosecute the beguiler of the illustrious but now weak minded Charles Francis Adams. They claim that their act has made it easier for others who may be assailed by the acts of alluring strangers to resist even when fairly entrapped and to pursue the swindlers after escaping from their clutches. This is the language of the Advertiser, which resents the sneering and slighting comments of some of the New York papers upon the incident. "The newspaper which jeers at an honorable man who has in a sad mental state, been lured into a bunco den is no better than an ally of swindlers. It gives public notice to all future victims of the suspicions which will attach to them if they boldly protest against being made the victims of blackmail and so far it uses its influence to silence them. It does its best to undo all the good which Mr Adams' sons are endeavoring to accomplish. This last swindle might have been hushed up. There was no necessity except on public grounds of publicity. But the public good demanded it and all concerned are deserving of the heartiest praise for bringing the whole affair to light."

A vast disgust is growing for the contemptible methods of the New York stock manipulators. The N Y Times gives a candid reflection of public opinion in very few words. It says "When a man like W H Vanderbilt stoops to rig the market so that a certain number of securities may be sold for more than they are worth and then that they may be bought in again for a good deal less he is engaged in a very mischievous, very unworthy and very contemptible transaction. This is the business in which the president of the principal trunk line of railways from the seaboard to the lakes and the northwest is believed to have lately occupied himself in connection with Mr Jay Gould."

More than half the agricultural implements arriving by rail at San Francisco during the past two months were consigned to Portland dealers, seven carloads arriving in one day. Shipments of hardware and metals also figure extensively in the volume of freight for the northwest. Besides the large traffic by rail there are now loading or on the way from New York alone 12 vessels registering 13 749 tons with general merchandise and iron for this port. These facts bespeak a promising state of affairs in Oregon and Washington and furnish a correct index of what is being done in the way of opening new avenues of trade and developing old ones.

Mr Tennyson, through his son Hallam, has replied to the temperance society which recently forwarded him a resolution expressing regret at the "drink" passages in his new song. "My father begs to thank the committee," the son writes, "for their resolution. No one honors more highly the good work done by them than my father. I must however, ask you to remember that the common cup has in all ages been employed as a sacred symbol of unity and that my father has only used the word 'drink' in reference to this symbol. I much regret that it should have been otherwise understood."

The emigration from all the Irish ports in the year 1881 was less than in 1880 by 17 138, the total for 1881 having been 78 719. All except 302 of these 78,719 were natives of Ireland. Leinster furnished 16 232 of them, Munster 21,782, Ulster 24,101, and Connaught 16 332. Since 1851 the total emigration has been 2 715 604, the yearly number having fluctuated from 190,322 in 1852 to 37 587 in 187[illegible]. Of those who went away last year 78 4 per cent went to the United States and 10 02[illegible] to Great Britain. About 64 per cent of the total were classed as laborers and only 6 per cent as farmers.

Russian statistics of immigration and emigration for the past 10 years show that 2 80[illegible] 000 persons have left the country and that 2 455 000 have entered it. This is an emigration excess of 352 000 but it does not include a considerable number of emigrants who have left the country without legal permission. The emigrants who went away and did not return belong mostly to the educated class and the class that if not wealthy is at least in easy circumstances. About 10 000 more Germans entered Russia each year than went out of it.

South Carolina gains two congressmen. Her politicians want to re-district the state in a way to secure all the congressmen but one for the democrats. This is denounced of course by partisan republican papers which see [illegible] harm in the [illegible] arrangement. What is sauce for the goose ought to be sauce for the gander. The gerrymander is a [illegible] device which republicans both and democrats have employed when opportunity has presented.

From the New York Tribune: It will be amusing to see New York democracy attempt the familiar experiment of [illegible] [illegible] playfully strike [illegible] of dynamite with a sledge hammer."

The Democratic Sarah

New York Tribune

"[illegible] transient gleam of joy [illegible] of our democratic friends [illegible] which [illegible] so long seemed a failure [illegible] bountiful of griefs since Jefferson died and the [illegible] passed [illegible] the faint dawn of possible cheerfulness [illegible] consolation, flushes the face of the [illegible]. They may be happy yet. To the democratic Sarah longing for an issue through years of weary waiting and of barrenness there comes a dim foreshadowing of fulfilled desire." What says the withered and stale old dame? Shall we who have gone childless since slavery died—we who in despair of legitimate issue of our own have gone [illegible] by chance that straggled our way from the [illegible] the greenbacker—shall we at last have [illegible] of our own? Not as the earlier Sarah received an [illegible] message from the angel of the Lord—with a smile of incredulity—but with the savage grin of eager expectancy [illegible] real the prophecy of an issue in the veto of the Chinese bill.

A Candid Policy

Philadelphia Times

The single merit in the civil service policy of the president is his candor in avowing his hatred of civil service reform and his manliness in opposing it. He gives public notice that public servants are wanted for party services rather than for the faithful performance of public duties and he draws the lines so distinctly between the power of office holders and the power of the people that he who runs may read. Civil service reform is dead with President Arthur but it is rattling around as the liveliest sort of a corpse among the people and the people will be likely to boss the job about 1884.

THURSDAY MORNING APRIL 27 1882

For Hotel Arrivals see fourth page

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC.—Major R[illegible], in charge of the western division of the Canadian Pacific railway, arrived last night from Victoria, and leaves this morning via Lake Pend d'Oreille for the Kootenay country. His mission is to permanently locate the line from the east slope of the Rocky mountains through the Kicking Horse pass to the Columbia river valley. This route has been adopted by the directors of the company in preference to the Yellow Head pass, some 100 miles farther north, and permission for such change of location has been asked from the Dominion parliament. That the company's request will be granted, there is no reasonable doubt. The line from the east is now 300 miles west of Winnipeg, and will be extended 500 miles by January 1, 1883, the country traversed being unbroken. This will bring the western terminus within 100 miles of the Rocky mountains. Should the line be diverted from the original survey to the Kootenay region—and all indications point to this change—supplies will have to be drawn from Portland and the Colville valley. The valley will furnish grain, hay and live stock, while this city by its location will naturally be the purchasing depot for all other supplies.

WAGON ROAD TO HELP THE RAILROAD.—In order to facilitate the work of grading and particularly to forward supplies promptly, the Northern Pacific railroad will as soon as the snow melts build a wagon road from Cabinet rock to a point 285 miles east, Wallula, to Thompson's, a distance of about 50 miles, over which there is now a good trail. A substantial road was built by the company last year from Missoula west to Thompson's river, a distance of 100 miles, at a cost of 40,000. The principal force of graders are on the south side of Clark's fork just above the first bridge crossing between the 250th and 266th miles. Two saw mills on Lake Pend d'Oreille will furnish bridge and trestle timber as fast as needed. There are now employed on the work 3650 men, of which 1289 are Chinese.

GOOD TIME.—The steamship Columbia's speed seems to have been improved by the recent accident in San Francisco harbor. On the last trip down she left her dock here at 5 A. M. Tuesday the 18th, crossed out shortly after noon, being delayed an hour in Astoria, and passed Meiggs wharf at 4 A. M. Thursday, making the trip from port to port in 47 hours. This time we think has never been equaled. She crossed in yesterday morning at [illegible], left Astoria at 7 and reached her dock here at 3:30. She towed the Ocklahama all the way from Astoria, discharging freight to her. The Columbia left San Francisco at 11 o'clock Monday morning, hence this trip just equals her best previous record, viz 52½ hours from port to port.

INCORPORATED.—The following articles of incorporation have recently been filed in the office of the secretary of state: The Oregon City Flouring Mills Company; object to buy, sell and export wheat, grain and all other produce, to manufacture flour, meal and all mill stuffs and carry on a general milling, grain and shipping business. Principal office at Portland; capital stock, $40,000; incorporators Wm. M. Ladd, W. S. Sibson and Donald Macleay. Portland Hydraulic Elevator Company; object to place hydraulic and other elevators in any place or building in Oregon, Washington or Idaho territories; incorporators, George J. Ainsworth, C. H. Armstrong and L. L. Hawkins; capital stock $20,000.

KICKED IN A FIGHT.—A Chinese wood sawyer named Ah Hoy engaged in a rough and tumble row with Wm. Darsett at Oregon City Tuesday afternoon, in which he was dangerously kicked in the bowels by his adversary. He was carried to a washhouse in an insensible condition, where he had profuse hemorrhages from the stomach and gave every sign of having been fatally injured. However, at a late hour last night his condition was much improved and it was thought he would recover. Darsett was arrested and lodged in jail. Yesterday afternoon a sergeant from Vancouver barracks arrived at Oregon City and stated that Darsett was a deserter from his company. It was not known whether the prisoner was returned to the barracks.

HE WAS A BOLD BURGLAR.—The culprit who robbed the residence of D. S. Tuthill yesterday morning has not yet been captured. Mr. Tuthill stated that about 2 o'clock he was awakened by the noise of some one coming up the stairway toward his room. Immediately afterward the door of his room was quietly opened and a Chinaman entered with a lighted match and several pieces of small silverware in his hands. Mr. Tuthill sprang from the bed and tried to catch him, but the Chinaman eluded his grasp and ran down the steps and out the door, leaving his hat behind him. Upon examination it was found that two pieces of silverware and a large carving knife had been taken from the side-board.

OREGON FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE CO.—The first meeting of the stockholders of the above company was held yesterday afternoon at Messrs. Ladd & Tilton's bank. A large majority of the stock was represented in person or by proxy. The directors elect for the first year are Messrs. W. S. Ladd, H. W. Corbett, C. H. Lewis, M. S. Burrell, L. White, Henry Failing, M. W. Fechheimer, Charles Hodge and J. W. Cook. The capital stock is $300,000 in 3000 shares of $100 each. One half the capital stock is subscribed and the stock books were closed for the present. A committee was appointed to draft by-laws and the meeting adjourned till Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to receive their report.

A TAILOR'S TRIALS.—Henry Pulsky was arrested and arraigned in Justice Petrain's court yesterday charged by J. W. Nickum with larceny by bailee. The plaintiff states that not long since he left a piece of cloth with the defendant, the latter promising to make him a suit from the same. Nickum also paid Pulsky an installment of $10 in advance on the work. A few days later Nickum called for the clothes, when, to his astonishment, Pulsky told him that he had never left any cloth there and hooted at the idea of having been paid any money. The probability is that Pulsky needed money and pawned the cloth, but was unable to redeem it. He was sentenced to 12 days in the county jail.

HEATHEN HITTERS.—Two Chinamen, Ah Tyme and Ah Jung, were arrested yesterday evening near the corner of Fifth and Jefferson, where they were having a little sidewalk circus all to themselves. Tyme had Jung down and was doing his utmost to drive Jung's cranium down his esophagus, while Jung had taken Tyme by the forelock with both hands, and was yelling for help. When arriving at the police station they had a great wa-wa, to judge from which, it seems that Jung's wife had left him, and thinking Tyme had some hand in the matter determined to square accounts with him. They both deposited $10 as surety, and left vowing eternal vengeance upon each other.

SENTENCES COMMUTED.—The governor has recently granted commutation of sentence in the following cases: John Frink, sent from Clackamas county for the term of two years from March 29, 1881, for the crime of larceny; Daniel Greathouse, sent from Yamhill county for the term of two years from April 4, 1881, for the crime of larceny—both sentences commuted for extra time allowed for work performed on the insane asylum building. He also granted a full pardon to Thomas Jackson, sent from Multnomah county for the term of five years from July 19, 1881, for the crime of assault with an intent to commit rape.

WORKSHOPS AT PRESCOTT.—Major Truax and Dr Blalock, two delegates sent by the Walla Walla board of trade to consult with the manager of the O. R. & N. Co. in regard to the erection of workshops at that city instead of the new town of Prescott, where much work has already been done, leave this morning for home. It is understood that the telegram sent by the board of trade resulted in an answer to the effect that the matter was left entirely to the officers of the company in this city, who have decided that Prescott offers many more advantages to the railroad employes for the end of a division than Walla Walla.

JUDGMENT AGAINST DEFENDANT.—The case of Harper vs Adair ended in the United States circuit court yesterday by the court giving a judgment on the verdict for $6634 98 against the defendant, remitting $825 02. The case has been pending for the past five or six years. Harper and Adair were once in partnership in the cattle business, when Adair drew and used more of the firm's money than Harper thought justifiable. Hence the suit.

FOR YAQUINA.—The steamer Yaquina sails at 2 o'clock this morning for Tillamook, Yaquina and Coos bay with the following passengers: F. Roberts, Thos. Marshall, D. C. Brown, Harry Howard, Wm. Driscoll, L. S. Fyffe, James Lotan, John P. Ward, Miss Ella Geiger, John Medin, wife and child, David Medin, Miss Mary Newberry, Mrs A. A. Fyffe, Alfred Berbee, Dr J. T. McCormack, N. G. Austin, Mrs Capt. Magee, Robt Simpson.

NOTARIES PUBLIC.—Gov. Thayer has recently appointed the following notaries public: E. D. Hayes, Stayton; C. W. Saxe, Monroe; Jas A. Sterling, Drain; John C. Arnold, E. W. Farrow, Pendleton; Geo. E. Trask, S. L. Reagan, C. F. Pfluger, Portland; C. A. Sweek, Canyon City; J. M. Brown, Silverton; F. A. Moore, St Helens; W. S. Hufford, The Dalles; R. Walker, Springfield; W. S. Elkins, Dallas, and Alonzo Gleaser, Baker City.

THE HORSE THIEF.—John Jones, who drove off a horse and buggy belonging to D. L. June, was arraigned in Justice Petrain's court for examination yesterday. He pleaded not guilty and after several witnesses had testified to having seen him in the vehicle and trying to sell it, he was bound over to appear before the grand jury in the sum of $300. The bail was not furnished and the prisoner was sent to the county jail.

GOING TO ST. LOUIS.—Gen. Geo. B. Dandy, chief quartermaster of the department of the Columbia, will be relieved in a few days by Gen. Edward L. Baker, depot quartermaster at St. Louis, Mo., and upon being relieved will proceed to St. Louis as quartermaster at that place. Gen. Dandy is deservedly popular both among his fellow officers and friends in private life here, all of whom will regret his departure.

RETURNED.—Mr. J. H. Fillmore, formerly superintendent of the narrow gauge roads, accompanied by his family, returned by the Columbia yesterday after three months' absence in New York. Mr. Fillmore has been appointed superintendent of the railroad division of the O. R. & N. Co. and will assume the duties of his office May 1st. Mr. J. M. Buckley continues as assistant manager.

SELLING LIQUOR TO MINORS.—William Murray, proprietor of the Columbia beer hall, was arrested late Tuesday night by Constable Mead, charged with selling liquor to minors. Pete Foley, a young boy, is said to have been allowed to drink at the bar a number of times consecutively. The case will be heard Friday. The defendant is at liberty under $50 bail.

DAMAGES CLAIMED.—David and W. G. Steel yesterday began suit in the state circuit court against A. G. Walling for $1500 damages. The plaintiffs claim to have a copyright to the publication of a certain style of map of Oregon, Washington and Idaho; that the defendant has made and sold these maps and had an income of at least $ 00 from their sale.

ANOTHER BACKSET.—Henry Bacon was arraigned in the police court yesterday charged with assault and battery upon Henry Leiberg. He tried to palm off an uncorroborated story of self-defense upon the court, who did not seem to agree with him, and fined him $30. Bacon will lead a retired life for ten days.

LEG AMPUTATED.—Some time since William J. [illegible]son, a young man, was taken to Good Samaritan hospital, having a very sore foot. [illegible] [illegible] yesterday the leg amputated [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the president of the disease [illegible] [illegible] decided that the only [illegible] save his life was by amputation, [illegible] which was performed by Drs. C. C. Strong and W. H. [illegible]. The patient's [illegible] [illegible] it will [illegible] [illegible] recovery.

[illegible] RALLY.—The republicans of [illegible] [illegible] first rally of the present campaign at [illegible] opera house in that city last evening. Hon. Jno. H. [illegible], H. W. [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] being present and delivering stirring addresses.

[illegible] B. [illegible] was Fred Meyers, an [illegible] at the Oregon City woolen mills, while [illegible] a circular saw, [illegible] [illegible] rapidly revolving [illegible] and had three fingers cut off. [illegible] [illegible] the wounds shortly after.

COMPLIMENT.—Gov. S. G. Thayer has [illegible] [illegible] commissioner for the state [illegible] to [illegible] in their respective [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] 13 [illegible] street, N. Y. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] H[illegible] N. Y.

[illegible] WITHOUT LICENSE.—[illegible] was arrested yesterday afternoon at the railway landing for soliciting for the Barton House without license. He furnished $10 for his appearance in court to-day.

WILL MISS ONE TRIP.—The Electa [illegible] will lay off Friday on account of having [illegible] [illegible]. She will come up from Astoria Saturday at 6 A. M. and returning leave Portland Sunday morning at 9.

REVIVAL.—The revival meetings at the [illegible] church conducted by Elder J. W. Spriggs are increasing in interest and will continue throughout the week.

THE LEVEE STEAL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

At the last session of the legislature Hon. [illegible], [illegible] a member from Multnomah, [illegible] introduced the levee steal bill into the house and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] its passage and also its passage over the veto of Governor Thayer. On the next morning after the bill had passed the house over the veto, [illegible] THE OREGONIAN uttered these words of a [illegible] rebuke:

"The senators from Multnomah [illegible] part [illegible] representatives did their duty [illegible] opposition [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] people of Multnomah are [illegible] [illegible] grant that some of their representatives [illegible] faithless. These persons, if they desire favors, after [illegible] at the hands of the people, would [illegible] pack their carpet bags and start for some [illegible] so distant that the record of their infidelity will [illegible] likely to follow them. Not one of them [illegible] get 100 votes in Multnomah for any office."

Are they not as true now as then? Do the multitude of citizens of Portland, who [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] represented in the votes from Multnomah [illegible] that favored the bill, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] resented? I am a republican and would [illegible] [illegible] to the party ticket but I can [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] which I condemn [illegible] then. CITIZEN.

A CORRECTION

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] THE OREGONIAN:

It is simply in a kindly spirit and [illegible] justice to myself and [illegible] that I [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] mistake in this morning's Oregonian which [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] is used as authority for saying that [illegible] [illegible] of Lakeview was indignant at and felt that an outrage had been committed [illegible] [illegible] arrest [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of that place [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] I did not authorize such statement. [illegible] [illegible] been at Lakeview since last November. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] knowledge of the feelings there [illegible] [illegible] the matter. I [illegible] gave [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] testifying to Mr B[illegible]'s high [illegible] [illegible] for honesty and integrity and to [illegible] [illegible] an unimpeachable standing at Lakeview [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] disposition to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] discharge of an official duty. Mr B[illegible] [illegible] doubtless did nothing more [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] duty in making the arrest [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] circumstances as they then appeared. [illegible] [illegible] discharge by the United States [illegible] [illegible] will [illegible] greeted with satisfaction by all who [illegible] [illegible] him [illegible] [illegible] Mr B[illegible] [illegible] duty will have been [illegible] [illegible] Respectfully, C. F. WATSON.

SUPREME COURT

SALEM, April [illegible].

Court met at 9 A. M. Full bench present.

Effie Rowland et al., app'ts, vs Henry Warren, resp't; judgment of the court below affirmed. Opinion by Watson, J.

HEAD NOTE

H[illegible], a testator, devises a tract of land to his daughter, M. E., and her body heirs, but ordered that if she died without leaving children, the land should revert to his other heirs. M. E.'s title to the land passed to a stranger in the lifetime of M. E. by purchase at a sheriff's sale. M. E. died leaving children, who brought ejectment to recover the land.

Held

1 That estates in fee tail have been impliedly abolished in this state.

2 That M. E. took either a fee simple or a fee simple conditional, defeasible on the contingency of her dying without children, with a limitation over by executory devise.

3 That the sheriff's deed passed a fee simple.

State of Oregon vs John C. Powers. On trial. Court took a recess until 1½ this afternoon.

WM. SCHEFFLER'S PURE WINES AND BRANDY

It is universally conceded that Wm. Scheffler's St. Helena (Cal.) Sherry, Port, Amber, Riesling and Claret wines, as also his vacuum distilled pure Grape Brandy, are really superior to other manufactures, not excepting that imported; the adulterants and impurities of which is now generally understood. Mr. Scheffler's goods are popularly known all over the Pacific coast. Eighteen [illegible] of all the druggists in California, Oregon and Washington territory have adopted his goods, discarding the imported. Ask your druggist here in Portland, East Portland, or in any town in this northwest, and you will be quite sure to obtain it, as you will at most of the first-class hotels and bars. Mr. Scheffler's Wines and Sanitary Brandy have been steadily growing into favor until they are known well in almost every household as a medicine, if nothing other. Mr. Scheffler's process of distilling is a vacuum [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] his brandy of the fusil oil, making it really pure, sanitary and healthful.

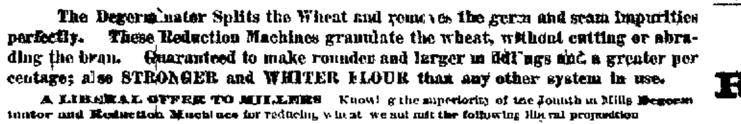
JONATHAN MILLS GRADUAL REDUCTION PROCESS.



OVER 500 MACHINES IN USE.

The Degerminater Splits the Wheat and removes the germ and seam impurities perfectly. These Reduction Machines granulate the wheat, without cutting or abrading the bran. Guaranteed to make rounder and larger middlings and a greater percentage; also STRONGER and WHITER FLOUR than any other system in use.

A LIBERAL OFFER TO MILLERS. Knowing the superiority of the Jonathan Mills Degerminator and Reduction Machines for reducing wheat, we submit the following liberal proposition:

We will set aside the Corrugated Rolls and put the machines in their place at our expense, and without making any other change we will guarantee Better Results than are now obtained. In this that from the same quantity and quality of wheat now used per barrel we will guarantee a larger percentage of Patent Flour of equal quality to that now made, a less percentage of low grade flour and a Bakers Flour superior in color and quality to and worth more money than that Bakers Flour now made in the same mills. If we fail to accomplish Better Results as above, we will take out our machines and replace the Rolls, all at our own expense, and in addition will forfeit to the miller a cash bonus of $500 to $10,000 according to the capacity of the mill.

In practical operation at City of Salem Co's Capital Mills, Salem, Or.

Who Manufacture Four Grades of Flour from our Machines.

A TEST CROWNED BY VICTORY OVER THE ROLLER SYSTEM.

In January, 1880, McDow & Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, bought the Jonathan Mills Reduction Machines and fitted up their "National Mills" therewith, continuing to use these machines for a year and a half. In August 1st, 1881, they were asked to set out the Reduction Machines and put in the Corrugated Roller Mills, subject to acceptance after trial, and had their mills so arranged at considerable expense, by practical men skilled in the art of roller milling, aided and backed by all the talent and experience of the manufacturers of Roller Mills. After five months trial McDow & Co. have thrown out the Corrugated Rolls and put the Jonathan Mills Reduction Machines back into their mill, where they are now in use, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] work of the Jonathan Mills Reduction Machines far excelled that done by the Rolls.

ON TRIAL WITHOUT EXPENSE to the Miller. To any mill where Corrugated Rolls are used for reducing wheat we will put in our machines in place of the Rolls, furnish all shafting, pulleys, etc., at our own expense, and let the miller run them on trial for 60 days. If the miller chooses to keep them we will charge him the regular price and the actual cost of making the change. If he prefers to keep the Rolls we will take out the machines and replace the Rolls, [illegible] free, thus insuring the miller a satisfactory trial in his own mill, and without any expense. DE YALLER CHINEE.

AS DISCUSSED IN THE CABIN.

He kin pick up a libbin' whar-ebber he goes
By walkin' de railroad an' washin' ole clo'es;
He kin lib 'bout as cheap as a leather-wing bat,
For he watches de rat market keen as a cat;
An' his boa'd an' his rations is pretty nigh free,
For a mighty smart cuss is de yaller Chinee.

Den he's not gwine to keer whar you put him to stay,
An' his eatin' don't cost but a nickel a day;
An' he won't gib a straw for de fines' hotel,
When a slab-sided shanty will suit him as well;
An' a empty old box, or a holler gum tree,
Is a big boa'din' house for de yaller Chinee.

An' he eats little mice when de blackberries fall,
Till de ha'r on his head gets de shape of a tail;
An' I know by his clo'es an' his snuff-cullud face
Dat he comes fum a scrubby an' one gallus race;
An' I's trabbled a heap, but I nebber did see
Such a curisome chap as de yaller Chinee.

Dis country was made for de whites an' de blacks,
Fur dey hoes all de corn an' pays all de tax;
You may think what you choose, but de 'sertion is true,
Dat the art called furriner nebber will do;
Fur dar's heaps o' tough people fum ober de sea,
But de cussedest sort is de yaller Chinee!

When de bumble-bee crawles in the dirt-dobber's hole
To warm up his fingers an' git out the cole,
Dar's gwine to be fuss in de family, sho'!
An' one ob de critters mus' pack up an' go;
An' de Chinerman's gwine to diskiver right soon
Dat de [illegible] can't [illegible] in de stump wid a coon!

When de woodpecker jumps on de mockin'-bird's nest,
You kin tell pretty quick which kin tuss e de bes';
Dar's a mighty good chance of a skirmish ahead,
When de pecker [illegible] round the tommy-cat's bed,
An' dar's gwine to be a racket wuf waitin' to see
When de wukin'man butts gin de yaller Chinee.

FALL RIVER VALLEY.

A Promising Region just across the Oregon Line.

A writer speaking of this new field for settlement says in answer to an inquiry for information:

I suppose you want information in reference to Fall river valley only, without including quite an extensive country reaching from here to Goose lake, in Oregon, all of which embraces Big Hot Springs, Goose lake and Surprise valleys, containing over 2000 square miles of good farming land, and only partly settled. Fall river valley lies at the southern extremity of this chain of valleys. It alone, in connection with a few small valleys close by, embraces 175 square miles of tillable soil, which is almost entirely free from timber, and perhaps would answer. The description is of prairie land, with the exception of a few thousand acres of river bottom land, already settled, and 12,000 acres of swamp and overflowed land, also owned and partially reclaimed. The prairie land itself is divided into clay and sandy soils. The sandy soil is also known as sagebrush land and is excellent for wheat-growing. I cultivate 200 acres of sage land, and raise good crops. By summer-fallowing it will frequently produce thirty-five bushels of wheat to the acre. In fact, all this valley is well adapted to the cultivation of wheat, barley, oats and rye. Irrigation is not needed. This valley is suitable to flax culture. Flax grows wild in many places. About two-thirds of the valley is settled. The remaining one-third is still open to pre-emption and homestead, a portion of which I consider very choice land. Fall river valley proper is twelve to fifteen miles in length and [illegible] somewhat [illegible] valleys previously [illegible] but all larger than Fall river. The country surrounding our valley is mountainous and [illegible]. The soil in the mountains is not fit for farming. Most of the mountains produce good bunch grass and support considerable live stock. The mountains produce plenty of timber for firewood. The slopes and plateaux extending back from the valley are covered with very superior pine. In fact, the largest and the finest body of timber in the Sierra Nevada mountains extends northwesterly from our valley to Mount Shasta, a distance of fifty miles.

ROOM FOR FIFTY FAMILIES.

"Good farms can be bought for $6 and $7 an acre. I am sure fifty families could be located on government land in this valley, allowing 160 acres to the family, and no doubt they could do well. Our climate is quite cold in winter. Stock should be fed about three months of the year. Lumber is worth from $8 to $10 a thousand feet. Two rivers flow through the valley, besides many small streams and springs come in from various sources, making water plentiful. Our nearest railroad point is Redding, distant about ninety miles. The extension of the Oregon and California railroad will perhaps bring us within sixty miles of rail. The Nevada narrow gauge railroad, proposed to extend from Reno to Goose lake, will come within twenty-five miles of this point when completed. It is, however, uncertain when the road will be completed. The wagon roads leading to this county are somewhat inferior, but are now being very much improved. Our market for farm produce is local and limited. Our distance from the principal markets of the state causes money to be scarce. However, the opening of the Hayden hill gold mines, north of here, will create a demand for our productions. (These mines have been lately sold to an English company for $750,000, and are very rich.)

WHEAT AND WOOL.

"We have a good flour mill here, capable of grinding all the wheat that the valley now produces. There is very superior and extensive water power at the town of Fall River Mills, sufficient to operate any number of mills. A woolen mill could be made a success, as several hundred thousand pounds of wool annually pass through here from the upper country, on its way to Redding.

"We have schools and schoolhouses, five districts, I believe. The schools are kept open from six to ten months during the year.

"Stock raising is a good business. Over 1200 head of beef cattle were sold and driven out of here during 1881. The country from here to Chewaucan, in Oregon, must have sent 15,000 head through this place to railroad. Our distance from regular markets makes farming less profitable than in other portions of the state, but raising cattle and hogs can be made so. Farm produce can be converted into live stock to good advantage. The soil will produce the greatest abundance of everything needed for feeding stock. A man should have at least a few hundred dollars in money or means, and then he can get a-long well enough. Domestic labor is not great. Men who intend to farm should not rely on others for employment, as they will be disappointed."

POLITICAL POINTERS.

The Administration and its Connection with Party Movements.

Washington Post, April 16.

Speaking of general politics last night, a leading republican said: "The administration is doing all in its power to strengthen the Camerons in Pennsylvania, Logan in Illinois, and the stalwarts in New York. Shrewd politicians look upon this interference [illegible] with great apprehension, and the fear is openly expressed that the future of the republican party is overcast with ominous clouds. There is no doubt that Senator Cameron wields great influence with the president, but he has recently committed some blunders which may seriously affect his political power. Gov. Hoyt is on the warpath, and is organizing an independent republican faction, composed of persons tired of the Cameron rule. Senator Mitchell is understood to be fully in accord with this movement, and open rebellion exists in Allegheny county, led by Mr. Bayne, of Pittsburg. There is trouble ahead for Cameron, there is trouble ahead for Arthur, and if things are not speedily arranged there is danger of a split in the party as disastrous as that last year in New York. To placate his opponents Senator Cameron has tried a liberal application of patronage, but the anti-Camerons object to his exclusive handling of the loaves and fishes, and are anxious to be consulted about future appointments. They are gaining strength rapidly, and the president must either frown publicly on Cameron or be prepared to accept the consequences of [illegible] too open recognition of the senator from Pennsylvania.

"The trouble in Illinois springs also from too much senatorial influence in the matter of appointments. Senator Logan has been running things very much in the same way as Cameron. At an early period of the present administration Gen. Logan assured the president that if he were permitted to control the leading appointments in his state, he would so strengthen matters as to insure an administration party strong enough to be depended upon in every emergency. In other words, that by taking the matter in hand at an early day he could hold that state, secure the election of a republican senator in place of Judge Davis, and that in 1884 there would be no contesting delegation in the national convention.

"This fact is a measure accounts for the all-powerful influence which Senator Logan is known to have with President Arthur. In several instances, where important nominations have been pending which greatly interest the representatives of the different congressional districts, Senator Logan has invariably defeated their recommendations and secured one of his own friends.

"With reference to New York the president has a difficult and embarrassing situation to deal with. Gov. Cornell, who was formerly closely allied politically with Gen. Arthur, has been organizing a strong Cornell party which threatens to become very troublesome. He evidently aspires to wrest the control of the state from the administration party proper, and to secure his renomination as governor. A council of administration republicans were called, at which it was agreed that under all the circumstances the action of Cornell toward Conkling and Platt was of such a character that it could not be forgiven, and that Cornell should be fought with all the power of the administration. President Arthur was appealed to and was requested to exert himself in behalf of some candidate more acceptable to the stalwart branch of the party than Cornell. As a result, Judge Folger's name was decided upon, and it is not unlikely that he will be the choice of the convention. This will make things serene for the administration in one respect, but it must make trouble for the party generally, and if the democrats are wise in their nomination they can make things whoop in New York this fall."

Southern Oregon.

Norway, Coos county, last year shipped 4825 dozen eggs to San Francisco.

Hands for logging camps are in demand on Coos bay. The wages paid range from $40 to $75 per month with board. Teamsters and hook tenders receive $75, and some of them even more than that.

A new logging enterprise was inaugurated last week on John Dillon's claim, on the south fork of Coos river. A. T. Barlow and Dillon have entered into an agreement with the North Bend Mill Co. for the sale of the timber on Dillon's claim, and they are now preparing to log for the mill. The logs will be sent to the mill before the 1st of July next.

The Coos Bay and Coquille Wagon Road Company, was incorporated last week at Empire City. The duration of the corporation will be ten years, and the business the acquiring the right of way, to lease or otherwise, for a wagon road from Coos bay to Coquille river on Isthmus slough to the Coquille slough, and the building and constructing of a wagon road thereon and the transportation of passengers and freight over the same, as common carriers; to lease, purchase, acquire and hold land and other real and personal property and to sell and convey the same; to deepen and otherwise improve Beaver slough, from said Coquille river to the Coquille river and to navigate boats on the waters of said slough for the transportation of passengers and freight as common carriers, and to build boats and vessels suitable for that purpose. The principal place of business of the company will be at Empire City, and the capital stock $4000 in shares of $20 each. The incorporators are John Flanagan, R. W. Getty, W. A. Luse, Jos. Aiken, Wm. Morras and H. P. Whitney.

PLENTY OF FUN.

"I see there is talk of running Tilden for governor. Please send me a large hatchet with a strong handle."—John Kelly.

Washington scene: Deep-voiced guzzler—"Hi, waiter! bring me three more schooners!" Awe-struck spectators, whispering—"That must be the new secretary of the navy."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Attentive: "I do so like to talk to you," she says softly, in a pause of the conversation, beaming on him and sighing. "Why?" asks the unsuspecting youth. "Because," she answers, [illegible], "because you're all ears."—From the Bronx.

Courtesy at an introduction: First gentleman—"Madame, permit me to introduce my friend, M. X. He is not nearly so stupid as he looks." Second gentleman—"That is where my friend differs from me, madame."—Jour. de Fornit.

It didn't follow: "How are you getting along?" asked a widow of her late husband, who appeared to her at midnight as a ghost. Ghost—"Very well, indeed, much better than during my twenty years' married life on earth." Widow (delighted)—"Then you are in heaven?" Ghost—"Oh, no."—Fliegende Blätter.

Equal to the emergency: Mrs. Ponsonby de Tomkyns—"That lady was evidently intended by nature for a Duchess, Sir Charles. I wonder who she can be?" Sir Charles—"She happens to be my sister, Lady Platagenet de la Zouche. May I ask why you think nature intended her for a Duchess?" Mrs. Ponsonby de Tomkyns—"She struck me as having such exquisitely small feet!"—London Punch.

Couldn't keep the run: A leading citizen of Dallas, one of the most intelligent property owners in the town, was reading a newspaper in the Texas Siftings office yesterday, when he came across the paragraph, "The admission of Dakota is a foregone conclusion at Washington," whereupon he said: "I can't keep up with the run of the Washington scandals, there are so many of them. What did Dakota admit?"—Texas Siftings.

Literary research: A conversation arose between two newspaper men the other day in the presence of Mr. John Stetson as to the lines commencing "The mills of the gods grind slow." "They are Pope's," said one. "No; Pope never wrote anything of the sort," maintained the other. "I'll tell you how to settle it," said Mr. Stetson. "I know Pope well—he's in St. Louis. Telegraph him and ask if he wrote it. I'll pay the charge."—Dramatic News.

Gallantry: A lady stopped the other day on one of the principal avenues of trade to look more closely at a handsome sealskin sacque that was displayed in the front of a store. The price was on a conspicuous placard—$400. She looked admiringly at the garment for a few minutes, and then, gathering a fur-lined circular more closely about her, started up the street. "Hi, there, missus!" yelled a small, ragged and thoroughly typical New York bootblack, "come back 'n I'll buy it fur ye!"—Harper's Weekly.

Before and after: Mr. Evarts says that a sentence going the rounds, attributed to him, is an attempt at condensing one of his dispatches protesting against the dismemberment of Turkey. It was founded on an incident which occurred at one of his Thanksgiving dinners at home. "I had a roasted New England goose, well stuffed with sage, with plenty of apple sauce and the usual accompaniments. At the close of the meal I said: 'My children, you now see the difference between the condition of affairs before and after dinner. You then saw a goose stuffed with sage; now you see a sage stuffed with goose.'"—Whitehall Review.

The Eastern Freight Market.

NEW YORK, April 26.—There is no change to note in the freight market via Cape Horn. Offerings are moderate yet fair for the season, with more light freight than for several weeks. The Columbia and Hagerstown are both doing fairly but the former will be the only one likely to get off this month and that depends on the weather, which is stormy. Tonnage is still scarce, yet neither of the lines are pressed. Vessels however are wanted for Portland.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, April 25.—No change in wool. The demand for Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces has been fair with further sales at 41@43 for X and XX; choice selections higher. Wisconsin and Michigan X fleeces sell at 40@41, and the market is firm at these figures for good average lots. No. 1 fleeces range from 44 to 46c per pound and are in moderate demand. Combing and delaine selections are quiet at 45@48 per lb; unwashed combing is dull and remains without improvement. In unwashed fleeces sales have been moderate at 25@33c for fine and medium grades and coarse, and low at 18@23 per lb. California wool is quiet and very little has been done for a few days. Pulled wool is steady. Choice eastern and Maine supers command 46@50c; common and good supers 35@42c per lb. Australian wool has been in fair demand at 40@46c for desirable lots, or at a cost not exceeding 90c for scoured, per pound. Carpet wools have been quiet.

Crops in Iowa.

CHICAGO, April 26.—A special to the Inter-Ocean from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, says: Information received from nearly sixty counties in the state shows the seeding has been completed in many parts of the state, and probabilities are that all small grain will be down by May 1st. The wheat and oats acreage is increased 25 per cent. Corn planting has commenced, but will not be general until about the 6th of May. The acreage of corn will be 20 to 30 per cent. larger than last year. About 10 per cent. of the old crop is on hand and farmers are hoarding it. The season is about three weeks earlier than last year. Fruit generally are uninjured, no indications of bugs, flies or other crop destroyers, and farmers are very confident of big crops. Some are over sanguine.

Chicago Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Wheat is active and lower; $1 37½ cash; $1 29⅜ May; $1 30⅜ June.

Given Up by Doctors.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."—Salem Post.

Excess of economy is always the companion of weak minds; it is a plant that will never grow in a strong soil.

During the Holidays when people exchange social greetings, conviviality is promoted by a glass of "Hub Punch." This admirably prepared substitute for a punch brewed impromptu, is delightful either with hot or iced water, lemonade or milk. Replenish your sideboards with it.

Sold by all Grocers, Wine Merchants and Druggists. Trade supplied by Richards & Harrison, Agents for Pacific Coast, San Francisco.

The Purest and Best Medicine ever Made.

A combination of Hops, Buchu, Mandrake and Dandelion, with all the best and most curative properties of all other Bitters, makes the greatest Blood Purifier, Liver Regulator, and Life and Health Restoring Agent on earth.

No disease can possibly long exist where Hop Bitters are used, so varied and perfect are their operations.

They give new life and vigor to the aged and infirm.

To all whose employments cause irregularity of the bowels or urinary organs, or who require an Appetizer, Tonic and mild Stimulant, Hop Bitters are invaluable, without intoxicating.

No matter what your feelings or symptoms are what the disease or ailment is use Hop Bitters. Don't wait until you are sick but if you only feel bad or miserable use them at once. It may save your life. It has saved hundreds.

$500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help. Do not suffer nor let your friends suffer, but use and urge them to use Hop B.

Remember, Hop Bitters is no vile, drugged drunken nostrum, but the Purest and Best Medicine ever made; the "INVALIDS FRIEND and HOPE" and no person or family should be without them.

D.I.C. is an absolute and irresistible cure for drunkenness, use of opium, tobacco and narcotics. All sold by druggists. Send for Circular. Hop Bitters Mfg. Co., Rochester, N.Y. and Toronto, Ont.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

THE

Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty, and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, the organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes the welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

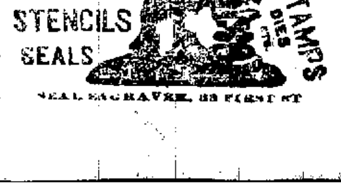
Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, treated without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

[illegible] office hours from 10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

All letters of professional business must be addressed to DR. PAUL M. BRENAN & CO., Portland, Oregon.



SEAL ENGRAVER, 33 FIRST ST.

SEALED TENDERS

FOR

RAILROAD TIES

WILL BE RECEIVED UNTIL 12 M., MAY 16, 1882, for furnishing two hundred and thirty-two thousand (232,000) cross-ties along the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, between Emory and Burrard Inlet, viz:

Twenty-five thousand (25,000) thereof shall be delivered at Port Moody station, or at a point on the line of said railway between Port Moody and Pitt River.

Other twenty-five thousand (25,000) thereof shall be delivered at Pitt River or between Pitt River and Kanaka Creek.

Other twenty-five thousand (25,000) thereof at Kanaka Creek, or between Kanaka Creek and Stave River.

Other twenty-five thousand (25,000) thereof at Stave River or between Stave River and Hatzic River.

Other forty thousand (40,000) thereof at Hatzic River, or between Hatzic River and Harrison River.

Other twenty-seven thousand (27,000) thereof at Harrison River, or between Harrison River and the lower end of Maria Slough.

Other twenty thousand (20,000) thereof at the lower end of Maria Slough, or between said lower end of Maria Slough and Tunnel "C" of said railway, which tunnel is about 15 miles below Emory's Bar.

Other ten thousand (10,000) thereof at said Tunnel "C," or between said Tunnel "C" and Tunnel "D," which latter tunnel is about 11 miles below Emory's Bar.

Other fifteen thousand (15,000) thereof at Tunnel "D" aforesaid, or between said Tunnel "D" and Tunnel "F" of said railway.

Other twenty thousand (20,000) thereof at the said Tunnel "F," or between said Tunnel "F" and Emory's Bar, or at Emory's Bar.

All such sleepers or cross-ties shall be delivered alongside the railway and within fifty feet of the center line of the track, and shall be piled up so as not to interfere with the work of construction.

The bottom of the pile shall be as nearly as practicable on a level with the grade of the railway track; and the said pile shall be so made as to permit of ready inspection and counting; and wherever such piles shall be made over water lines, bodies of water or drains, the ties shall be placed in such position that the bottom of the pile shall in all events be above the line of high water.

It will be necessary to deliver at least fifteen thousand (15,000) acceptable ties per month from date of entering into contract until completion of same.

Ties must be smoothly hewed or sawed, free from all [illegible] and other unsound [illegible], eight feet long, flatted on two opposite sides to a uniform thickness of six inches; the flatted surface being no less than six inches on either side at the small end, and when sawed they shall be eight inches in width and six inches in depth.

All ties must be of sound timber fell since [illegible] and acceptable by the chief engineer of said railway, or they will not be paid for.

Ten per cent. will be reserved upon payment of acceptance ties until completion of contract, and ten thousand dollars ($10,000) approved security required to be signed by two responsible sureties with such tender, as must be described in the tender. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

Tenders to be addressed to the undersigned, Yale, B. C., and endorsed "Tenders for Ties on Contract No. 62."

A. ONDERDONK, Contractor.
